

CLIENT ALERTS

Media Law – The Open Meetings Act Requires Public Bodies to Specify their Decisions

6.3.2011

June 3, 2011

In a recent decision under the Open Meetings Act (“OMA”), the Michigan Court of Appeals held that a public body’s minutes did not adequately reflect the decision made at a meeting, thus violating the OMA.

To view the complete publication, please click the link under Related Files.

Related People

Jennifer A. Dukarski
Shareholder

Robin Luce-Herrmann
Shareholder

Joseph E. Richotte
Shareholder

Related Services

Access, Freedom of Information
Act & Open Meetings Act

Media Law

Media Litigation